The officers of the prison ridicule the idea that Schneider is either insane or that he is feigning insanity. For some time after his conviction the condemned man gave himself up to moroseness and almost absolutely refused to talk with any one, but that feeling has now disap-peared and he freely converses with his fellowprisoners and with the prison officials. He, how-ever, politely declined to talk with The Stan reporter yesterday, excusing himself on the ground that his counsel had instructed him to refuse all newspaper interviews. The prisoner has not shaved since his conviction, his face now being covered by a short and very dark beard. This beard rather detracts from his personal appearance, crusing him to appear much paler and infirm than he really is. His relatives now visit him much more frequently than they did before his condemnation, his brother Will and the latter's wife being his most frequent visitors. Schneider's cell door is left open during the greater part of the day, and he spends most of his time in exercising, generally enjoying a cigar during his passage to and fro in the rather limited corridor in which his cell is located. He sleeps very well, the prison officials being much gratified over his improved condition.

INVESTIGATING MAJ. ALVORD. Charges Against the President of Maryland Agricultural College.

A meeting of the special committee of the board of trustees of the Maryland Agricultural College, at College station near this city, to investigate the management of the college was held yesterday.

The principal charge they make is that Mai. Alvord, president of the college, is not a manager, and is not popular with the students, and very autocratic. He governs, they charge, by orders, and not by kindness. Members of the faculty state that there is no individuality allowed in work. Unless this individuality exists the work is of no account. They also claim that the farm could be made productive, but that it has been allowed to go to pieces.

It is alleged that the experimental stations of Maryland, Tennessee and Georgia have recently puplished identical bulletins upon "Potash and Paying Crops," and that these bulletins were prepared by the German kali works of Washington. ngton. The committee of cadets that was examined Church addressed the gathering and delivered a dedicatory prayer. Addresses were also made by Rev. Mr. Payne of St. Augustine. Fla., Miss Ida Miner of the M. E. Deaconess' Home, Rev. Mr. Robinson of a neighboring colored church, Rev. W. H. Shell of the Vermont Avenue Church, Mr. M. E. Cohen, Rev. Scott F. Hershey, Rev. O. A. Brown and Rev. J. H. Lemon. Last evening a gospel meeting was held in the mission, the services being attended by quite a large gathering. Rev. Dr. Brown of the Foundry Church addressed the meeting, as did Mrs. Judge McDowell and Isaiah Kovabe, a Japanese student of Howard University. ELOCUTION AND ORATORY.

Successful Commencement Exercises of the Martyn College at the Academy of Music. The Academy of Music was crowded last night with an audience that was both able to appreciate and quick to demonstrate its appreciation of the excellent and enjoyable entertainment furnished by the pupils of the Martyn College of Elocution and Oratory upon the occasion of the annual commencement exercises of the college. In the audience were 500 teachers of the public schools of this city, who manifested intense interest in the evidences of the year's work of the pupils. The Martyn College drills young men and women in acting and oratory and in graceful gesture to suit. The exhibition was therefore one of unusual interest. The curtain rose upon a class chooting a drill, the subject being "Changing Attitudes in Counterpoint." Next came another class drill in give a modern give a modern class drill in grant class drill in physical culture, a number of attractive young ladies presenting some graceful poses. The committee of cadets that was examined by the investigating committee expressed with Richard Tappan as the Ghost and E. H. Wilteside as Heardet. The quarrel scene from "School for Scandal" was presented by Miss Easter that they were heretofore afraid to make complaint against the president of the college. He, they allege, threw a damper on their athletic sports, discouraged their efforts to organize a literary society, and refused to allow the boys to have a dance.

Maj. Alvord said that all the trouble in the college was stirred up by Prof. Thos. L. Brunk and Prof. J. D. Hird, whom he had marked for dismissal. The farm, he says, is poor and needs money to make it productive.

GEORGE ARTHUR RICE, L. L. BAILEY, E. C. HUMPHREY, W. F. HOGAN. This company has purchased two claims of 300 by 1,500 feet each, covering the extension of the Last Chance and Amethyst Vein at Creede, Colo., to wit, the Little Maid and Silver Plume, and within one thousand leet of the Amethyst end line. The accompanying map shows the relative positions of the different claims and is taken from the patent surveys. Both the Last Chance and Amethyst are today wonderful mines, and, although only opened the past winter, have produced nearly a million dollars already and have from four to six millions blocked out in sight. A recent issue of the Denver paper says that the Amethyst is making preparations to ship 500 tons of ore per day. The ere from this mine averages over $100 per ton. 500 tons per day means over a million per menth. Within a few months these wonderful mines have caused the camp of Creede to jump from a small hamlet of a dozen prospectors to a flourishing city of 7,000 people, causing a boom only equaled by Leadville in its palmiest days. This company is now running tunnels and sinking a shaft to intercept this great vein. Its treasury stock offered for the purpose of carrying on this work. The personnel of the directory insures to the stockholder a careful and hones; administration of the affair of the company. Amongst the directory are the presidents of three banks, the U. S. Surveyor General for the State of Colorado, and the secretary of the Colorado Commandery of the Loyal Legion. Millions would not buy the Last Chance and Amethyst; millions will not purchase the property of this
